

The Colour of My Feelings- colouring and writing exercise

On the outline below draw where you feel your emotions and what colour you think they are. For example you may feel anger in your head and it might be red.

